- 1 Improve English and math with factsheets, worksheets, quizzes, and games at <http://www.bbc.co.uk/skillswise/>

This website is a wonderful resource for teachers and their intermediate and advanced ABE and ESL students. Skillswise showcases the latest and best in online education. In addition to educational content divided between "words" and "numbers," the site includes motivational stories and a message board. Be sure to check out the educational games linked to the homepage, or go directly to <http://www.bbc.co.uk/skillswise/games/>. Though Skillswise is intended for residents of the UK, much of the content is available to everyone. I have used some of the English language games and fact sheets in my intermediate ESL classes. Though I am not teaching ABE Math, the numbers content appears potentially valuable. (4/06)

Special thanks to our contributors:

- CBD: Claudia Bianca-DeBay, CASAS state-certified trainer and ESL instructor, cdebay@tmcc.edu
- JT: Jeanie Thibault, statewide GED trainer, eduk8tor@cox.net
- PC: Paul Carignan, ESL Instructor, WNCC, paulcc@nvcbell.net

- 2 Banking on Our Future: www.bankingonourfuture.org

Interactive site covering banking, checking, saving, and investing, with audio and animation.

CDB: For use with beginning, intermediate, and advanced level ESL students as well as literacy students (any level). A good curriculum resource for covering CASAS competency 1.8: "Use Banking and Financial Services in the Community." The site also covers use of ATMs and online banking and provides an online calculator, glossary of bank terms, teaching tips, and assessments for students to test their comprehension of the lessons. 11/03

- 3 The Literacy List: <http://www.alri.org/literacylist.html>

A collection of FREE ABE and ESL/ESOL resources.

JT: Has lesson plans and tons of free stuff. Very informative site. 11/03
